

Spartan Motors Makes Donation to ALIVE Regional Community Health Park

December 14, 2018

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Dec. 14, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Spartan Motors, Inc. (NASDAQ: SPAR) ("Spartan" or the "Company"), a global leader in specialty chassis and vehicle design, manufacturing, and assembly, has donated $75,000 to the regional health center ALIVE to support community wellness initiatives. The donation marks the tenth installment of a $1 million pledge initiated in 2009, on behalf of The Spartan Motors Foundation.

The donation was presented by Spartan Motors President and Chief Executive Officer, Daryl Adams and Chief Administrative Officer, Tom Schultz.

"ALIVE is an incredible resource serving the Greater Lansing area," says Adams. "Making good on Spartan's million-dollar pledge is about supporting the community that so many of our employees call home. The ALIVE center, and Hayes Green Beach Memorial Hospital by extension, has made a profound impact on the health and welfare of this community. We are proud of the ongoing support The Spartan Motors Foundation has been able to provide."

ALIVE, supports and inspires the greater Charlotte and mid-Michigan communities, through an experience-based destination health park, that transforms, empowers, and enhances personal wellbeing.

The Spartan Motors Foundation is the charitable arm of Spartan Motors and was developed to positively impact the tri-county area surrounding the Company's headquarters, where many of its employees live. Spartan is the lead donor for ALIVE.

"Spartan Motors' support provides us with the resources necessary to succeed," said Matt Rush, President and CEO, Hayes Green Beach Memorial Hospital. "ALIVE is more than a place; it's a destination for health, wellness, and in turn, empowerment. This generous donation allows us to help the people in our community live healthier lives."
