

Spartan Motors Announces Guidance for 2002 Year-End, 2003

November 18, 2002

CHARLOTTE, Mich., Nov. 18 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Spartan Motors, Inc. (NASDAQ:SPAR) today announced earnings guidance for the year ending December 31, 2002 and initial guidance for 2003.

The Charlotte, Mich.-based manufacturer of motorhome chassis, fire truck chassis and emergency vehicles said it expects to earn $0.95 to $0.98 per share in 2002, which is slightly higher than analyst estimates. For the first nine months of 2002, Spartan Motors has reported net earnings of $0.80 per share on net sales of $196.1 million, compared with net earnings of $0.41 per share, on net sales of $173.0 million in the same period last year.

Spartan also reported initial guidance for the 2003 calendar year. Spartan Motors said its initial guidance is for sales to increase to within a range of $290 million to $300 million, with earnings reaching $1.06 to $1.10 per share in 2003.

"We will continue to focus on the things that have brought us success over the past 18 months, such as productivity, quality, managing working capital and generating cash flow," said John Szykiel, chief executive officer of Spartan Motors. "In 2003, we will also focus on winning market share -- not buying it -- but earning it with great products, great service and a desire to make the Spartan experience a great one for customers. Spartan Motors will work hard to become the most desired brand and lowest total-cost producer in the market niches we serve."
